What is a CANNAGAR?

What is a Cannagar? A Cannagar is also known as a canna-cigar or cannabis cigar. A true Cannagar is a masterpiece in itself—an amalgamation of premium cannabis flowers delicately packed at its core, with or without a central skewer for optimal venting.

Each Cannagar is carefully wrapped in cleaned, individual cannabis plant leaves before undergoing a gentle drying phase. Once dried, they continue through a precise curing period within our humidity and temperature-controlled humidor rooms. This careful regimen spans a specific length of time, ensuring the perfect conditions for a slow, even, and luxuriously smooth burn.

OUR MISSION

Unlike many in the industry, our mission goes beyond recognition or financial gains. At East Coast Cannagars, we exist for our consumers. Our hardworking team strives tirelessly to deliver the best quality premium cannabis cigars on the market.

From seed to plant to product, our premium Cannagar products are cultivated on licensed industrial hemp farms. Every step of our production process undergoes rigorous third-party testing and Quality Assurance reviews to ensure the purest products available. Our commitment to quality control, precision, and consistency sets us apart, and our facilities rank among the largest in the hemp cigar manufacturing industry.

East Coast Cannagars – where mission meets mastery, and your satisfaction is our top priority. Join us on this journey as we redefine the standard for excellence in the world of premium cannabis cigars and elevate your smoking experience today!
